Green Mountain Republicans Rather Apathetic.

A Heavy Falling off in Their Oldtime Majority.

Prohibition and the Granger Question Factors in the Fight.

Other Political News-The Result In Arkansas as Usual-The Republican Plan of Campaign Laid Down.

By Telegraph to The Times.
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION (Vt.), Sept 2.—[By the Associated Press.] This State today voted for State officers, wo Representatives to Congress, and full list of State Senators and Representatives. Twenty cities and towns, including Burlington give Page (Rep.) for Governor 3571, Brigham (Dem.) 2041, Allen (Pro.) 115. In 1888 these towns gave Dillingham (Rep.) 5686, Shurtliff (Dem.) 2489, all others 110.

Returns thus far received indicate not only that the Republican vote is a very light one, but that the ticket has been cut. The decrease in the Demo-cratic vote is not nearly as large corre spondingly as that of the Republicans The Prohibition vote remains about the same, so far. Fifty towns out of 248 in the State give Page (Rep.) 8198, Brigham (Dem.) 4582, Allen (Pro.) 240, scattering 3. The Republican majority over all in the towns so far heard from is 3373, against 7750 in 1888. If the vote in the remaining towns corre-sponds with those heard from, the Re-publican majority will be the smallest since the institution of biennial elec-tions. jority over all in the towns so far heard

Later returns now in from 100 towns show a Republican net loss, compared with the vote in 1888, of 71,764. The Democrats gain 100 votes; all others

BURLINGTON (Vt.,) Sept. 3.—1 a. m.

Returns to the Free Press from a majority of towns in this section give Page (Rep.) for Governor a light majority. Page's majority is estimated at 17,000, against 27,000 for Dillingham, the present Governor, two years ago. The vote for Allen (Pro.) for Governor is very light—about 1500. The high license vote has largely increased during the past two years, owing to non-inforcement of the prohibition law. Returns from the backwoods towns are oming in slowly.

The Democrats have gained 441, while the Prohibition vote has fallen off but little. If the vote in the remaining towns is relatively the same as those heard from, the Republican majority will be about 15,000 in the whole State. There were only 18 Democrats in the Assembly in 1888. Thirty-seven have been elected in 135 towns already heard from and two Farmers' League candidates. An unexpectedly large number of high license Republicans were elected. cans were elected.

Political Crookedness and a Big Democratic Majority. Sr. Louis, Sept. 2.- By the Assocorrespondent of the Post-Dispatch telegraphs that the counting of the votes in the Third Ward is not yet completed, and there are fears of trouble. The vote from Eastman township brought in last night is closely guarded by armed men. The Capital City Guards (colored), were disbanded this morning and Adjutant-General England took charge of their arms. This was done because it was rumored that the arms might be used to make trouble. Returns from the election are coming in slowly. A large vote was polled and several days must elapse before the full returns can be obtained.

Another Heavy Fallure. Boston, Sept. 2.—It was reported this ofternoon that a note of the Worcester Steel Works had been protested. The capital of the company is $500,000, but the commercial agency gives it no rating. The failure is the outcome of the Potter, Lovell & Co. failure.

Practically all union men are out. GEORGE'S FOLLOWERS.

THE NATIONAL SINGLE-TAX LEAGUE FORMED.

ree Trade and Grover Cleveland the Idols of the Members of the Organization-George as a Prophet.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—[By the Associated Press.] At today's meeting the single tax convention was formally organized as the "National League of Single Tax Clubs of the United States.' The committee on Platform and Resolutions, Henry George, chairman, went into session. At the afternoon session the comnittee's report was read in the shape of resolution, setting forth that the lelegates here assembled are organized into a national single tax league. All organizations subscribing to the national single tax platform are eligible for membership. The resolutions fur-for membership. The resolutions further say:

While the League is an organization and seeks to incorporate its economic views in law through political action, we gladly recognize the religious feeling that animates a desire for justice, and recommend the cooperation of such parties in full accord with our views to advocate the single tax on ethical grounds.

The report was adopted. Five delegates-at-large, who, with a delegate from each State in conference, and one from the District of Columbia, will constitute the Medical Committee were appointed as follows: William T. Crossdaie, Louis J. Post, August Lewis, Read Gordon and G. St. John Lewens. Among the State Committeemen are H. L. Pleace of California and James W. Bucklin of Colorado. Adjourned until tomorrow.

A mass meeting was held this evening at which W. Lloyd Garrison and others spoke. Mention of Cleveland's free trade message in Garrison's speech evoked loud cheers. Garrison said: "Our reform has been marked with great wisdom. Its pover has been felt by the Democracy of the State of New York and Republicanism of the courtry, which is nothing; but as national politics is the science of numbers (laughter), it cannot afford to speak the truth and it says what is expedient. It deals in words, not in ideas."

Among other speakers were Lee Merriwether of Missouri, Judge Ma-guire of San Francisco, and Henry George.

Mr. George spoke but briefly. He heard, he was no longer needed on the platform. There were others than he to talk single tax. A few years ago he said they were educating men in the movement who would change the destinies of the country, and he was glad to see the predictions were true.

SYDNEY, Sept. 2.—A meeting of employers of all classes today resolved that the time had arrived when it is necessary for employers and capitalists to form a protective association and co-operate in fighting the battles of the community against aggressive unionism. Legal Inquiry Into Its Cause Begun.

Webb Denies Discharging Men Because They Were Knights.

Gen. Pryor Championing the Cause of the Strikers.

Powderly Thought Depew Would Not Have a Strike Be-cause He is a Presiden tlal Candidate.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 .- [By the Associated Press.] The State Board of Arbitration began the investigation today as to the difficulties between the New York Central Railroad and the Knights of Labor. Third Vice-President Webb of the New York Central was the first witness, and said the company had no controversy with its employes. On the evening of August 8th a large number of employes left and their places had been filled. The alleged cause was that 78 members out of 20,000 had been discharged. They were dis-charged for cause, but only seven of those men applied to the company for information as to why they were discharged. Subsequently a gentleman-from another State called and wanted to know why the men were discharged. Witness declined to give the reasons.

This gentleman was Mr. Holland. Upon being cross-examined by Gen. Roger Pryor, Webb said he had discharged the men on reports from members of the secret service of the company. The charge itself was unsatisfactory service. An engineer named Lee was discharged for unsatisfactory service. Lee was very angry and insolent, and said he would tie up every wheel between here and Buffalo if he did not get some of Vanderbilt's

Continuing, Webb said: "Several of the men know the cause for which they were discharged. Their relations with the Knights of Labor had nothing

St. Louis, Sept. 2.—[By the Associated Press.] Two physicians filed complaints in the Probate Court today for an inquiry as to the sanity of Mrs. Woodworth, the evangelist who has been holding meetings here for several months. The doctors think a peculiar mental and bodily state is due to hypnotism exerted by Mrs. Woodworth, and that its effect is most pernicious. The basis for the inquiry lies in the fact that Mrs. Woodworth has stated while in this state that she has conversed with the Deity and descended

SACK-HOLDERS' LITTLE SCHEME.

Mayor Proves to be a Mind War-Horses.

As the campaign begins to warm up or in country newspaper parlance, as the "political pot begins to boil" the old war-horses who have been looked many years, dig down in their rusty old memory shops and flaunt before an admiring crowd of budding "rock rollers" stories as to how politics used to be run in the palmy days of said war-

One of these stories reached the ever open ears of a TIMES reporter the other day and as the hero of the story still walks the streets of Los Angeles a happy man it might not be out of place to give it as it was told. You see in those days we had not adopted the latest fads in campaign fights, and the ordinary candidate had to be worked mighty careful or we wouldn't get much of an assessment out of him Now, all you fellows have to do is to tell a candidate that the boys must be staked or they will do him up at the polls, and he comes down handsome; but in my day they would look at us in open-mouthed astenishnent if we asked them for a few hun dred to buy ballots and things, and tell us hat they guessed they would not run at all if they couldn't go into of-fice on merit, or something of that kind. I remember one case in point. fice on merit, or something of that kind. I remember one case in point. We had just gone through a mighty tough campaign, and our city election was coming on. We Democrats had been cleaned out in the most approved style, and when we thought about the city election, which was only a few weeks off, it made us sick at heart. We wanted a good man at the head of our city ticket, but everybody was heart-sick, and to save our lives we did not know what to do. One of our oldest war-horses brightened up one evening, long after honest people are supposed to be in bed, and, in a husky voice—we were in a beer parlor—informed us that he had struck a plan. We needed only $500 for the campaign, and we knew that we would have to put it up ourselves, if we could not get it ent of the head of the ticket, so when our companion informed us that he had an idea between his teeth, we pounced on him like a lot of tramps at a free lunch counter. He gave us his scheme, and we parted after agreeing to meet the next morning at Democratic headquarters.

"When we came together the next morning we were duly sober and after a hurried consultation, we sent for "Billie" Workman, and asked him if he would not like to be Mayor of the metropolis of the South. 'Yes, yes, of course,' he replied in his well-known abrupt style, 'of course, ugh, ugh, for my children—Want to hand down something for them. Yes, ugh, ugh,' and we knew we had struck the right man. 'Well,' said our spokesman, we have struck a plan. Now, har, Weekung, we have decided to help our tip fight. None of us want office, but if you will accept the momination for Mayor, and put up $500, each one—'

'Oh my God! Can't afford it! Haven't seen so much money for years. Ugh, ugh, can't think of it,' interrupted 'Uncle Billie' in great excitement.

"But each one of us will put up a little sum, and we were so sure that you would stand in that we have our

"But each one of us will put up a little sum, and we were so sure that you would stand in, that we have our checks all ready filled out and have turned them over to our treasurer here. Now, give us yours and we will elect you Mayor.' 'Uncle Balie' scratched his head a few minutes and called for a blank check, which was gleefully furnished him. The check was duly filled out for $500, signed, folded and handed to the treasurer. We thanked 'Uncle Billie,' assured him of success, and bowed him Monthly Report of the Depart-ment.

The monthly police report to be subwas closed, all of the checks, with the exception of 'Uncle Billie's' were passed back to the original owners by the treasurer, and, strange to say, each one was torn up and thrown into the waste-paper basket. 'Now' says our leader, taking the check from the treasurer, 'I will rush over to the bank and get this cashed before 'Uncle Billie' changes his mind.'
"In about twenty minutes he came back with a long face and sank down 'Uncle Billie's' back with a long face and sank down in a chair, as he mournfully muttered 'Sold.' We questioned him for some time, but could not get a word in reply. We brought him brandy and water, as we feared he would faint or water, as we feared he would faint or do something desperate. After taking a good strong drink he ejaculated: 'Boys we must run him, for a man who can turn the tables on such old politicians as we are will make a good Mayor.' We began to fear that our old pal had lost his mind, and you never saw such a frightened crowd in your life. Finally we asked him for 'Billie's' $500. 'Five hundred devils,' be thundered, 'that check wasn't worth a cent.' 'But we saw him sign it,' we replied in one voice, and we know he has not less than $10,000 in that bank.' 'That's all right, but I have good reasons to know that but I have good reasons to know that we are caught in our own trap. I passed the check in and was thunder-struck when the cashier smilingly said atruck when the cashier smilingly said he did not know such a person as the signer of that check. You don't know W. H. Workman? I thundered. Yes, he knew that gentleman, but the check I had just given him was signed W. H. THE COUNCIL.

Their Special Railroad Session Yesterday.

THE UNION PACIFIC FRANCHISE

Knocked Out by a Vote of Five to Four-Why the Council Would Not Stand In.

The Council met in special session yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock to consider the matter of granting the franchise desired by the Los Angeles Terminal Railway Company. There were present Councilmen Bonsall, Summerand, Brown, Shafer, Hamilton, Van Dusen, Wirsching and President Frankenfield.

The first business in order was the reading of the franchise. ment is a very lengthy affair, and pro-

For the conveyance to neeting, but when the Chair called the the Los Angeles Terminal Railway of a sixty-foot right-of-way from the southern patent boundary of the city to a point three-hundred and sixty feet north of Hoff street, along the eastern bank of the river; for the conveyance, also, of about two acres north of Dow-

Sec. 11. Providing that no switching, stopping or making up of trains should be allowed where a bridge crossed the track at grade.

The last section is given in full as follows:

The last section is given in full as follows:

Sec. 12. The Union Pacific Railroad Company shall have the right to the joint use of all tracks built by the Loc Angeles Terminal Railway Company, its successors or assigns, on and over all lands and rights-of-way herein granted to said last-mentioned company by the city, it is successors or assigns, or and over all lands paying to said last-mentioned company, or its successors or assigns, a fair proportion of the cost of all construction and maintenance of said railroad, levee, and bridge approaches, and of all improvements which may be used by said Union Pacific Railroad Company, with legal interest from the date of such expenditure.

After the reading of the franchise almost every Councilman had some amendment to propose. At Councilman Van Duzen's instance the land on the east side of the river with the exception of the two acres now occupied by the Cross road, was stricken out of section 1. Section 4 was amended so as to call for the erection of a new span in the Macy-street bridge and the raising of the entire structure so as to be above the tops of the cars. This was Councilman Wirsching's idea. One of the other Councilmen suggested that the railroad company build a new bridge altogether.

No further amendments were made of any moment until the 12th section was reached, when Councilman Van Dusen moved the str.king out of the entire section and the substitution of the following:

Sec. 12. Nothing herein contained shall be considered as granting any exculsive franchise to the Los Angeles Terminai Railway Company over any of the right-of-way herein granted, but any railroad, 100 miles in length or over, hereafter built, shail have the privilege of the joint use of all tracks built by the Los Auleies Terminal Railway Company, its successors or assigns, on the lands granted said railway company by the city on the payment of their portion of the cost of all construction, improvements and maintenance of said railroad, levee, cost of right-of-way and bridge approaches, or other expenditures, and of all improvements which may be used by said railroad comprises, with legal interest from the date of such expenditures.

Councilmen Bonsall, Brown and Shafer protested vigorously against Councilmen Bonsail, Brown and Shater protested vigorously against this substitution. Mr. Workman, on behalf of the Terminal Railway Company, protested that it was an injustice to a company proposing to expend as much money as they do to demand that they should share the result of their labor and expense with any road that chose to come in after the work is done.

The roll was called on the motion to substitute, Councilmen Van Dusen, McLean, Summerland and Wirsching voting yes; Councilmen Bonsall, Brown, Hamilton and Shafer voting no. The casting vote being left with President Frankenfield, he said that as this is probably the last franchise they will have a change for great to a transcentiprobably the last franchise they will have a chance to grant to a trans-continental railroad, there being no other good entrance to the city except along the river banks, he was in favor of keeping the gate open for other rbads which may wish to enter. He accordingly voted in favor of Councilman Van Dusen's motion.

The representatives of the railroad present immediately withdrew their application for a franchise, and the Council adjourned.

Ex-Mayor Workman, who has taken an active part in this matter, was seen by a limes reporter after the Council adjourned. He was very much put out, and stated that his company will not make a further attempt to secure a franchise. Mr. Workman is probably wrong in this, as his company can secure a franchise without the assistance of the Council. of the Council.

A Sum of Money That no One Will Take.

JUSTICE SAVAGE'S PREDIÇAMENT

He Wanders About With a Bag Gold, Which He is Very Anxious to Give Away.

Probably there are few men in this city who have ever been in the strange position now occupied by Justice Savage. He has in his possession a bag containing 75 gold coins of $20 denomination. He says that he will gladly give $25 bonus to any kind and charitable citizen who will take it off his hands. He does not want the money and never did. It has cost him first and last a good deal of worry and annoyance and day before yesterday was the cause of a criminal charge which was unexpectedly leveled at him. Yesterday he made two or three hones efforts to dispose of the money, but without success, and it still hangs like without success, and it still hangs like a mill-stone around his neck.

The money is the $1500 which was deposited by Alva Udell, charged with bigamy, as bail to give him liberty until his case shall come on for trial in the Superior Court. When Udell was arraigned in the Township Court on the 24th of July, Justice Savage fixed his bail at $3000. Udell had the matter brought before Judge McKinley on a writ of habeas corpus, and the bail was reduced to $1500. This amount he deposited with Justice Savage and was allowed to go free. On the 4th of August Udell was examined on the charge of bigamy and held to answer to the Superior Court. Now the statute provides that bail money shall be deposited with the clerk of the court in which the defendant is held to answer. In this case this was the County Clerk, The money being in Justice Savage's hands, it would have been his duty to turn it over, together with the papers in the case, to County Clerk Meredith.

However, just as the examination was concluded an attachment was However, just as the examination was concluded, an attachment was served on Justice Savage in the case of Besicker vs. Udell, now pending in the San Francisco courts. Bail money is not covered by a garnishee, but as soon as the examination ceased the money was no longer held by Justice Savage as ball, and should have been immediately turned ever to the Courty. Savage as ball, and should have been immediately turned over to the County Clerk. The question which has caused all the confusion is this: What was the status of the $1500 at the time that the attachment was served? If it was in the hands of Justice Savage as an officer of the lower court, by him to be turned over to the County Clerk, then it was bail money; but if he merely held it as an agent for Mr. Udell to transfer it to other hands for him, then it was it to other hands for him, then it was subject to the attachment. When Udell came before Judge it to other hands for him, then it was subject to the attachment.

When Udell came before Judge Cheney day before yesterday it was found that no bail money was deposited, for Justice Savage, uncertain what course to take, had done nothing. Udell was called upon to get bail, and failing of this was taken to the County Jail.

While Savage was seeking legal advice as to what was best to do, a complaint was filed charging him with embedies as to what was best to do, a complaint was filed charging him with embedies of Justice Austin and compelled to produce bail himself.

Right in the midst of this confusion a new claimant to the $1600 appeared on the scene. The case of Udell vs. Udell, pending before Judge Van Dyke in Department Four, is a demand for alimony instituted by one of Mr. Udell's divorced wives. Her attorney, Horace Appel, late Monday afternoon, went before Judge Van Dyke, and stated that there was a certain $1500 mixed up in the scrape, to which Mrs. Udell had as good a claim as anybody, and he therefore asked for a restraining order to prevent Justice Savage from paying the money over to anybody. This order was issued and effectually tied Justice Savage's hands until the next day.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock should, therefore, be allowed his freedom. District Attorney McComas answered that it is not possible to consider anything but the record, and there is no evidence that the money has been deposited with the proper authorities. At this juncture C. C. Stephens, Esq. entered, followed by Justice Savage. The latter had a bag of gold coin on his shoulder. Mr. Stephens stated that his client was quite ready to give up the money whenever it should be determined who was entitled to receive it. The Court demanded to know why he did not turn it over to the County Clerk, and the it over to the County Clerk, and the answer was given that it was held under a restraining order from Judge answer was given that it was held under a restraining order from Judge Van Dyke.

In the meantime Judge Van Dyke had opened court and the entire party, except Udell, who wished to argue his case on the writ of habeas corpus before Judge Wade, adjourned to Department Four. Horace H. Appel, Esq., representing Mrs. Udell, was sent for, and presently he and T. K. Wilson's Esq., representing the San Ffancisco claimant, appeared in court. Mr. Stephens placed the bag of gold on the table and said: "Your Honor has issued a restraining order to Justice Savage for the $1500 which he holds, deposited with him by Alva Udell. Here is the money. We stand ready to make such disposition of it as the Court sees fit to order. I assure the Court that Justice Savage holds the money most unwillingly. It has caused him a good deal of annoyance and yesterday brought down a charge of embezzlement upon him. All the parties to the affair are now present and it ought to be possible to come to some understanding and agreement. All that we desire is to get rid of the money.

Mr. Appel then suggested that the money be deposited with the clerk of Judge Van Dyke's court, subject to such an order as the Court might hereafter make. To this Mr. Brooks objected, as his client would be left without ball. He held that as the money had originally been given to Justice Savage as bail it should be turned over as such, subject to whatever demands might thereafter be made upon it. Mr. Wilson protested against the money being applied as bail, as the attachment of the San Francisco parties had been levied upon it while it was in the possession of Justice Savage, acting as agent for Udell, to transfer it to the County Clerk. The Court said that it would be impossible for him to give any decision in the matter unless all the parties were agreed.

The discussion lasted for about an hour. As it proceeded Mr. Stephens

The discussion lasted for about an hour. As it proceeded Mr. Stephens repeatedly begged that something might be done to allow his client to get rid of the money so that his responsibility in the matter would cease.

Mr. Appel said that he was quite willing to have the money remain where it was, in the hands of Justice Savage, and Mr. Wilson agreed with him.

At last Judge Van Dyke said that it was evident no conclusion could be reached, and he adjourned court without taking any action. Justice Savage and Mr. Stephens went out, the former carrying the bag of gold coin.

Late in the afternoon Judge Van Dyke vacated the restraining order, which left it possible for Justice Savage to pay the money to whomsoever he saw fit. But he, acting under the advice of his counsel, paid it to nobody. In the meantime Judge Wade decided Udell's habeas corpus case by denying the writ, and the defendant was sent back to jail.

Thus it is that with all the maneuvering of yesterday, ranging through several courts and involving the discussion of many interesting points of law, the matter came out in the end in exactly the same position that it was at the beginning of the day. Justice Savage has shown the money and has practically disposed of the criminal charge of embezzlement. Udell is euchred out of his ball and is kept in the County Jail, and there is no prospect that the situation will change very soon. very soon.

Abuses in the Public Schools. Los Angeles, Sept. 2.—[To the Editor of The Times.] The objections to our schools from the East Side in your paper of September 1 are not clearly enough stated for all to understand them, but they suggest some thoughts to me and to others, and if I may venture to hope my letter to you may be given space, I may give a few thoughts in return. Some of our schools have only six teachers. These six lonesome females cannot or do not take care of thems elves and their classes, so a principal must, at a salary of $135 per month, be furnished to watch them. These principals are evidently unfit for even that small service, for a deputy superintendent is hired at $150 per month to watch the principals. This deputy not being hired at $150 per month to watch the principals. This deputy not being considered enough, a superintendent at $250 is engaged to keep on the deputy's track. This man cannot be very trustworthy, whoever he may be, for the Board of Education is behind him to stir him up to a sense of his duty. But the Board is apt to go wrong, so the City Council is called in to take a hand in the management of the schools. Don't it make you think of "This is the dog that worried the cat that caught the rat that ate the malt, etc?" The idea of six or seven experienced teachers—and you know they elect none other—requiring an extra person who has no teaching to do, to watch them work in the absence do, to watch them work in the absence of the Superintendent, is so outrageous that it would make one angry if it were not so ridiculous. Only a few years, nay months, since the principals taught and considered it no hardship and were not paid $135 either. I do not remember hearing that our schools were in such bad condition at that were in such bad condition at that time.

As to the writing teacher, his services might be dispensed with entirely with advantage, for I have yet to meet the teacher who approves of his style of work. Any sensible teacher could give all the music necessary, and the corps of teachers do all the work in drawing. You stated the figures too low for these ornamental people. The teachers of writing and drawing receive $125 monthly, and the drawing receive $125 monthly, and the drawing teacher $165 for the month. We rich in the school department, I should not favor any retrenchment, but as we are not rich, let these useless ones be dispensed with for a time at least.

Another place where money could be saved is in the kindergartens. The bables of 4 and 5 years do not need the school room as much as the child of 10 or 12. Could no change be made here to lengthen rather than shorten the school year?

I read with pleasure Ray, Colling's that there was a certain $1500 mixed up in the scrape, to which Mrs. Udell had as good a claim as anybody, and he therefore asked for a restraining order to prevent Justice Savage from paying the money over to anybody. This order was issued and effectually tied Justice Savage's hands until the next day.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock Udell came into Judge Wade's court with his attorney, J. Marion Brooks Esq., on a writ of habeas corpus. It was based on the ground that he had already paid over the $1500 needed for bail to Justice Savage, and should, therefore, be allowed his freedom. District Attorney McComas it is, it will take two teachers, at $90 and an extra principal to watch them, which will make $315. I am not very heavy on arithmetic, but I believe the difference saved would be $85 monthly. These schools do not need an extra any more than the other four-room buildings that do good hard work. More than this, I see in the rules for principals these words: "Principals must be at schools at $:30 a.m. and remain until 4 n.m." Now, how is this remain until 4 p.m." Now, how is this ady, competent as she may be, going to be at both of these schools at once? Might as well make the Hellman principal do the work of the Chestnut-street school, and the principal of the High School that of Sand street. They are nearer together than the two in the Railroad district.

are nearer together than the two in the Railroad district.

Of course it is much pleasanter for the principal to do no work and get $20 a month extra, but the question arises: Is it right or just that the Bpard of Education shall thus squander our money? I for one say no!

I call the attention of every tax-payer to the changes I suggest, for I do not expect any attention to be paid to wnat I say by the Board, for their course in the question of the High School and the wishes of the people kills any hope from them of redress, but in another election we will remember.

The idea of our fair city having only eight months' school, after the enormous sums received by taxes and bonds! We are the laughing-stock now of other counties and cities, and what will we be when our children run the streets for one third of the year? I say this can be averted. The instances I have given are few. There could others be found, no doubt, just like it. I invite a reply. Respectfully,

TAXPAYER.

Indian Sign Language

Lots of our army boys on the frontier have half the language at their fingers' end. Suppose we take up just the signs of the tribes so that you could find out without a word spoken just what band or nation an Indian happened to belong to, or, if you like, play the game among yourselves.

To ask who or what you are either make To ask who or what you are either make the sign of some tribe you have in mind and then point to him with the index finger of the right hand, or else hold the right hand palm to the front, about the height of the shoulder, and with thumb and linger extended and separated turn the hand to and fro a few times by wrist motion, then point to the Indian himself. It means, "I want to ask you a question. Who are you, or to what tribe do you belong?"

After some discussion on this point, the District Attorney asked for three days in which to prepare counter affidavits, and was given until Friday morning. The case was then argued. The chief point made—outside of that of the reading of The Times by a juror—was on a certain part of Judgs McKinley's charge to the jury, in which he stated that the fact that the defendants had, apparently, attempted to escape from the scene of the killing and to hide themselves, should be taken into consideration as tending to show, in some degree, that they were conscious of guilt. Mr. Guthrie endeavored to show that certain recent decisions of the Supreme Court had modified the law on this point.

Monday afternoon Miss Cora Farrar of San Francisco, who is stopping at the Hollenbeck, hired a buggy and driver and started for a trip to Pasadena. Near Garvanza the horses became frightened and ran away. The lady and her driver were both thrown violently to the ground. The driver escaped without injury, but the lady was considerably bruised about the head and shoulders, and several deep gashes were cut in her face. She was resting easy last night, and will probably be out in a few days.

situation in the Sixth District is regarded with deep concern. Will the Orange Land politicians hear us? The Republican State Convention acceded to your demand, and permitted you to name the head of the ticket the Northern counties are making a valiant fight for Col. Markham. have razed to the ground all walls of have razed to the ground all wans of sectional prejudice and we proclaim him the candidate of the Republican party of the State of California; we feel that he is big enough in heart and intellect to be the Governor of this great commonwealth. Will you of the Southern counties likewise prove your fealty to the party by subordinating Southern counties likewise prove your fealty to the party by subordinating your smaller local ambitions for the success of the whole ticket? You need not be reminded that Fresno stood by Markham solidly from first to last, and was rewarded by the defeat of that able and learned jurist, Judge Nourse, whom the Fresno delegation, backed almost by the solid vote of San Joaquin Valley, urged for Supreme Justice. In view of this fact, and other facts that ought to occur to you without blunt statement; in view of the efforts of Bowers and Lindley to pull each other down and to prove that pull each other down and to prove that the other does not represent the united party of the district, it seems to us that the nomination of Dr. Rowell of Fresno is almost a political necessity, so far as the State ticket is concerned. Since the convention has become involved in this entanglement, the delegates south of Tehachepi must be careful that they do not betray Markham in their fealty to Bowers or Lindley, for we tell them playly that the By. or we feel them plainly that the Republican party will be hurt, not alone in Freano and San Joaquin Valley, but in San Francisco, and even under the shadow of Mt. The political significance of the nomination of Governor heavily outwards the importance. nificance of the nomination of Gover-nor heavily outweighs the importance of all other places on the ticket, and Los Angeles and San Diego wild do well to be satisfied. Let San Joaquin Valley—let Fresno have this Congress-ional nomination. Dr. Rowell is the peer of any that has been named or can be named for this distinction. He will bring harmony out of this disor-der, and victory for Markham and the entire Republican ticket. LET IT BE ROWELL.

[Ventura Free Press, Sept. 1.] It will not be necessary for the riends of Dr. Rowell to say anything against either of his opponents. That they are good men and strong in their communities is shown by the steadfast-ness with which their friends have stuck to them. The devotion of the followers of each candidate has never been equaled in any convention ever held in California. This speaks for itself and it speaks well for them all. But it is about time that we were looking the situation fairly in the face looking the situation fairly in the face and seeing where we really stand. From one of the three men, Rowell, Landiev and Bowers, a choice must be stade. No other name will be tolerated. If the disposition of the convention is not altogether misunderstood. From his position across the mountains he [Rowell] will not be tied to any one community to the detriment or disparagement of the others; nor will he have a favored locality. His availability is beyond all question. He is the idol of his home people. He will bring a personal strength to the whole tight in an hitherto Democratic locality which no other candidate can ity which no other candidate can touch. His learning, ability, legisla-tive experience, and the broad, deep knowledge born of intelligent travel will give him an entree into the most exclusive diplomatic, social and legis-

As between Rowell, Lindley, and Bowers, the vote of Ventura should be for Rowell. Never lose sight of the generous act of Rowell four years ago when he gave the day to Ventura.

Let the district remember this: Not only will Rowell come out ahead in Fresno and Tulare counties, but the whole Republican State ticket will be successful there if he is nominated. ROWELL'S NOMINATION PROBABLE. Judged by the general feeling here, and telegrams and letters received today by different citizens, the prospects for the nomination of Dr. Rowell at Ventura this week are most encouragng. Many delegates from the southern counties seem to have become con vinced, since their return to their homes, that possibly the wisest plan would have been to nominate Dr. Rowell while here. They acknowledge Rowell'while here. They acknowledge his ability and popularity. The fact that he carried this Senator District by over 500 majority when the district was about two thousand Democratic, has made a strong impression now, even if it did not when the delegates were here. After a few ballots the majority of the delegates seemed to have lost all thought, except that of champloning their particular candidate. They were averse to reason, ((x +) - (C, N C)

Fresno will be well represented at Ventura. From the present outlook a number of Dr. Rowell's friends will attend with the delegates from county. They all go strong in the thought that their candidate is by all means the most available candidate mentioned, and that he must win.

An Old-Time Republican Speaks Los ANGELES, Sept 2 .- [To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Since the abortive attempt of the Fresno convention to nominate a candidate for Congress for the Sixth Congress District, I have heard and read a great deal in regard to the situation. So far as I can make it out, the position seems to be as follows: While no one was authorized to make a bargain and sale of the Los Angeles delegation to the State Convention, it was at least tacitly under stood, and acquiesced in, that in case Col. Markham received the nomination for Governor, this county should not present a candidate for Congress before the approaching convention.
Further, while General Murray was in the field as the prospective candidate from San Diego, the desire of our people seemed to be that he should receive the support of our delegates.

But the indorsement of Mr. Bowers instead, entirely changed the aspect of the case. From all accounts he is not by any means the choice of the rank and file of the party in his own county, and besides he is far from being acceptable to those of our people who know the man and are acquainted with his record as a boiter and otherwise. As an individual and as a citizen who has the good of the party at heart, I would caution the delegates to the convention that meets at Ventura on Thursday next, that they will make a grand mistake should they nominate the San Diego aspirant.

While Mr. Lindley has very many personal friends here, of whom I am one, who would delight to honor him and see him honored, still under the circumstances many are strongly opinstead, entirely changed the aspect o

The case would have been entirely different had Markham been defeated at Sacramento. Then his followed. have felt free to go into the fight with clean hands and a strong prospect of success. As the case now stands, it seems to me that Dr. Rowell of Fresno should be the coming man. His nomishould be the coming man. His nomination would cause no heart-burnings, and would strengthen the party where it most needs strengthening. On the contrary, the success of Bowers means at best a lukewarm support all over the district, while Hervey Lindley's name on the ticket will cause vigorous scratching even in our own county. It must not be forgotten that the Demogratic giant. Stephen M. White, will cratic giant, Stephen M. THE question of the granting of the franchise to the Los Angeles Terminal Railroad Company is a most important one, and the public should be allowed a full and free expression of opinion thereon. It is noteworthy that the Council is very insistent on appealing to the people on the Sunday closing of saloons, while this railroad question which involves many millions of dollars to the people of Los Angeles, it settles off-hand, in a couple of hours. Let there be a public expression of opinion on the subject, even if we. don't take a vote, as is proposed on the

THAT RAILROAD FRANCHISE.

For some days past, readers of THE TIMES have been kept informed of the progress of events in connection with the operations of a new incorporation, known as the Los Angeles Terminal Railroad Company. It has been an open secret that this corporation was backed by a transcontinental company, seeking a new out let to the Pacific. The names of the recognized, a resolution was adopted directors of the new incorporation, authorizing the Committee on Territoalready published in THE TIMES, show that it is a business proposition. They are as follows: B. F. Hobart, president Kansas and Texas Coal Company; R. C. Kerens, vice-president St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas Railroad; George E. Leighton, director Union Pacific Railroad; E. F. Leonard, president Texas Pacific and Western Railroad; George M. Parker, president Cairo Short Line; S. W. Fordyce, president St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas Railroad; S. B. Elkins, president West Virginia Central Railway; Morgan Jones, president Fort Worth and Denver Railway; Thomas Lannigan Alvah Mansur, Jeff Chandler, John F. Davis and Thomas H. West.

Our people were pleased at the prospect of obtaining an improvement which they had been long waiting, a line of railroad which should connect Los Angeles with the rich mineral regions of Utah and Nevada, whence may obtain, not only rich ores, but also cheap fuel to smelt them with.

On Monday, ex-Mayor Workman, the leading spirit of the Los Angeles end of the enterprise, appeared before the City Council, and in the course of an eloquent address asked, on behalf of his company, the lapsed Scott-Marble franchise, for right-of-way along the east bank of the Los Angeles River, which franchise included a grant of about twenty acres of land for machine shops, etc., opposite Ninth street. As may be remembered by our readers, the Scott-Marble people did not turn a shovelful of earth during their two years' incumbency of this franchise. The present company, on the other hand, as already mentioned in THE TIMES, appear to mean business. It is, at least, in the power of the Council to provide that, unless they mean business, they shall reap but little benefit from the franchise which they seek.

Such was the situation when the Council yesterday, after driving over the right-of-way in company with the Mayor, met in adjourned session, and agreed to grant the franchise asked for, but-with a proviso which, in the eyes of the grantees, deprives it of all its availability. One provision of the franchise, as asked for by the local company, provides that the Union Pacific shall be permitted to use the lines to obtain ingress into the city. The Council has seen fit to so change this provision as to make it read that any railroad desiring access to Los Angeles shall be allowed to use the lines. This would, of course, practi-cally make the new road a public highway for ambitious companies with Pacific-ward ambitions. The company declares itself to be quite willing to make the usual arrangements with other roads for right-of-way, but it is not ready to enter into any such agree ment as that proposed by the Council So much is this the case, that it is understood that the Western directors have already telegraphed East that the matter had fallen through.

This state of affairs is much to be regretted, particularly so because there is every prospect that the new company mean business, and that it would shortly connect Los Angeles with rich mineral regions, and in turn open out fresh markets for Southern California products. The local representatives of the line affirm that they have ties and other necessaries ready to commence immediate work on the road—work which would turn loose several million dollars in and around Los Angeles in the next couple of years, and so greatly relieve the present stagnation of trade Opportunities to secure competing ines do not grow on every bush and when such an opportunity is presented to Los Angeles it should at least be considered by her city government with respectful attention As aforesaid, the Council has every opportunity to place safeguards around the franchise and, if the company in question is willing to under take to investment of so large an amount of money, it is not for us to throw needless obstacles in its way The real estate of Los Angeles, on the east side of the river, is not so valuable-nor will it be for some years to that another road will be decome barred from laying a competing line with permission of the Council.

Let the question be re-considered. It is too important a matter to be disposed of in so summary a manner.

HAWAIIAN TROUBLES.

The sudden ordering of the Charleson to Honolulu was caused by apprehensions of an outbreak in the islands in which the salcontents might get possession of the government, to the disadvantage of the predominant American interests. The Wilcox anti-missionary, anti-American set has been trying for some t me past to get a foothold, the abortive revolution of July, 1889, being one of their schemes. Failing in this, they undertook to accomolish their purpose by carrying the legislature at the succeeding election. They succeeded by a small majority; and a new cabinet was formed, but it did not include the half-breed. Robert W. Wilcox, who was distrusted by the business and orderly elements of the islands, and the Wilcox party have apparently set about a new scheme of disturbance to enable them to get uppermost. The law and order party in the islands is, however, very strong, and will probably be able to cope with any insurrection. We may look for interesting news from Honolulu by the

The division over which the new rope stretches com-prises that part of the cable system between the power house at the corner of Grand avenue and Seventh street and the pit opposite Arcadia street on North Main street.

From the descriptions published of the laying of former cables, it is generally supposed that all cables are laid by horse power, but the cable last night, as well as the last new cables on the Downey avenue and Boyle Heights di-visions was put in from the power house by the use of the regular steam power. The Plaza division is a particularly trying one to a cable, as there is probably three or four times as much wear upon it as upon any other, owing to the fact that all the cars on both the Downey avenue and Boyle Heights these use it, and to there being six short curves and one long one on the line, whereas there are not more than two short curves on any of the other lines. The traveling public has probably been somewhat annoyed by the recent numerous stoppages of the Plazacable. Engineer Bob Sizer says he was pulling out, and just as the train got under way he turned around and saw a man standing near him. Before he could ask a question or look twice two big revolvers were in his face. He was then told to run his train up to Escambia River bridge some miles distant, and stop on the bridge. There was nothing left for him to do but to obey and he did so. The engineer was told to get off his engine, and he did so. Then the robber directed Sizer to go to the express car and force an er trance, the robber putting a heavy mallet in his hand. Sizer did so and burst open the car door. The express messenger, Archie Johnston, was standing in his car with a pistol in hand, but seeing S zer he lowered it. The next minute he was covered and told to lay down his gun, and he obeyed.

Then the robber standing in the car door compelled the messenger to open the safe and hand him all the money While this operation was going on the fellow was standing in the door cooli-looking at his vict m and firing first to one side of the train and then the other one side of the train and then the other to overawe the passengers and train crew. Catching Jewfish.

AVALON, Sept. 1.—[Correspondence of The Times.] I wish to ester a plea for jewfish, and also for the best order of things in this little hamlet by the sea. I suppose the reason why so many outing fishermen like to catch jewfish is on account of its size. They think it is something grand to bring a 300 or 400-pounder in. However it is nothing and werse than nothing if the catcher makes no better use of his catch than, I am sorry to say, some have made here. Many come here for sport, and some of them seem to care little at whose expense they get it. Many a jewfish has been caught and wasted. They have been hung to the framework and left hanging there until the neighbors could stand the hanging no longer. Then the stinking carcase drifts for days in the bay, and if it were not for what nature does for Avalon, by the way of furnishing an abundance of the best quality of air, and in unstinted quantities, Avalon would be uoted for malaria as much as it is now noted for healthiness. But although it would be difficult to breed disease where there is so much by heature to best the content of the blessite of the blessite.

then appeared, but Anson refused to recognize him unless he produced created for healthiness. But although it would be difficult to breed disease where there is so much by nature to baffle it, yet no such abuse of the blessing of pure air should be allowed. It would be for the best and highest good of those pleasure seekers who do not catching jewfish, as well as for all others, to insist that they do not land them at Avalon. If they must willfully waste and destroy that which was created for some good purpose, we pray them to find some other quarter of the island where they can enjoy the odors of their efforts all by themselves, we will excuse them. We hope to see no more jewfish brought ashore at Avalon to rot. But why not eath jewfish for the profit there may be in the business. A 300-pounder would doubtless bring in the business. A 300-pounder would doubtless bring in the business. A 300-pounder would doubtless bring in the business. A 300-pounder so of $6; I mean cured jewfish. I suppose of $6; I mean cured jewfish. I suppose this catch in weight per day. Thus in 30 days he could earn $180—a neat little sum for a month's work. The way to cure jewfish is: Cut them up in strips length. Wise, say about two inches thick, and pickle in barrels. They may be shipped the much money made in the fishing business around Catalina Island if engaged in this way or they my be better work and dried on flakes. I have no doubt but what there could be much money made in the fishing business around Catalina Island if engaged in in the right way. In another letter I will endeavor to furnish some valuable information as to how to ore refused to Chicago. He can a profit to the chicagos to play and after waiting five minutes declared the game forfeited to Chicago. The said later, however, he didn't know that half an inning had been played. The matter will have to be settled by the League. Boston won the second game by combined hits and errors. Attendance, 2494. Score of the second chicagos in the profit them and the profit had th gaged in in the right way. In another letter I will endeavor to furnish some valuable information as to how to pro-cure plenty of bait, which is often hard to get here. Fishermen must have plenty and good bait and there need be no lack. Yours truly, HENRY LEE.

There is no room for a question that the honey crop of 1890 in Southern California is about all gathered. While a large yield was obtained in some localities, in others not much over half a targe yield was obtained in some localities, in others not much over half an average crop was obtained. It was supposed by most persons interested in the business of beekeeping that 1890 would give an unprecedented yield of honey, and the copious rains of the late months of 1899, and January, February and March of 1890, gave good grounds for the supposition. But it is not rain alone that gives us flowers and nectar; a warm damp atmosphere must surround the bloom to produce the best results as to secretion of nectar. Hot winds will kill the bloom on many shrubs and plants and dry up the nectar in the bloom of any tree. Even the bloom of the bue gum yields to a north wind or hot wave from the desert. Hot or north winds have been so prevalent during the latter part of June and so far in July, that in some places bees have quit storing honey and are now consuming their stores. In such places the season is ended.

What we know: That black spiders will kill the moth; that the quality of honey produced this year in Southern California is equal to any that has been made in this locality since 1876, both as to flavor, body and color. Much of it is bright as a ray of light seen through a dew drop. That spiderwebs ought to be brushed off beehives to prevent the bees being caught in the webs; and that an old broom is a good thing to use to do the work with; that a white wash made of one part of Portland cement to five parts of air-slacked lime and a little salt, mixed with cold water and made salt, mixed with cold water and made What we know: That black spiders of the Trades' Unions Congress today.

Mr. Watkins, president of the congress, delivered an address, n which he sail he hoped the results of the congress would encourage a great labor revival. He advocated direct representation of labor in Parliament, state control of railways, and the solution of the land question by nationalization.

What we hear: That the honey supply in the San Francisco market is greater than the demand; that but little honey is changing hands in San Francisco on account of the large supply of berries and fruit; that the yield of honey in most of the Eastern States is very small, in some places an entire failure; that several Chicago firms mix glucose and sell it as California honey, cheating their customers and giving California beekeepers a black eye, or killing two birds with glucose; that San Diego county has produced this season so far, more honey than was produced in the whole season of last year, and that this year's honey is of much better color and quality than that produced last year; that several parties are preparing to establish large aniaries is Arizona; that Carniolan hees parties are preparing to establish large apiaries is Arizona; that Carniolan bees have made a good record this year as

The instrument of torture consists of a hose. With the sozzle within six inches of the convict's tace, a stream with sixty pounds pressure is turned on. The upfortunate cannot breathe, and when he opens his mouth he is strangled. The water is forced down his throat and all through his head. The punishment is continued until the convict becomes unconscious, and then the prison physicians are called to resuscitate. Many are today physical wrecks through this torture.

The Senate Takes Another Turn at Tariff.

A Reciprocity Amendment Offered by Hale.

Sherman's Criticism of Secretary Blaine's Schame.

The Clayton-Breckinridge Contest Taken up in the House-A De-bate on Political Crime In Arkansas.

By Telegraph to The Times.
WASHINGTON (D. C.,) Sept. 2.—[By the Associated Press.] Senate.-Mr. Evarts presented a resolution of the Buffalo Merchants' Exchange favoring reciprocity—not only with nations to the south, but also with that on the porth.

The House bill in relation to lo teries was reported from the Postoffice Committee and placed on the calendar with a notification by Mr. Sawyer that he would ask its consideration as soon as the Tariff Bill is passed.

The Tariff Bill was then taken up and the sugar schedule considered. Mr. Carlisle gave notice that he would move to strike out all paragraphs relative to sugar bounties.

Mr. Hale offered a reciprocity amendment of which he had given notice on June 19th and addressed the Senate upon it. The desirability of such interchange of products as the amendment proposed, he said, had been a subject which had given rise to the closest attention and had resulted in grave and pertinent suggestions from eminent public men of the United States during the last thirty years. Whoever had seen the gradual falling off of American trade with Central and South America and the isles of the sea must have witnessed those conditions with the greatest impatience. The people of all those countries had a common interest with the people of the United States.

had a common interest with the people of the United States.

Alluding to the late Pan-American Congress, Mr. Hale said it proved that the same considerations which had their influence in the United States were also in the minds of the eminent results and their results are republic. men from the sister republics who took part in the proceedings of that Con-gress, and that they pointed to one sure, inevitable end—increase of trade between the United States and those people. Those considerations which applied to an extension of trade and increase of interchange of products applied not only to the nations of Central and South America, but to the islands of the Sanash wait.

of the Span sh main.

Mr. Hale assured the Senators who represented the sorghum and beet sugar districts that he was not in antagonism with them. If these Senators objected to the policy of trying to secure some benefits from those countries for tures the amount that would be paid for silver or claims other than those which pass Congress. He figured out an increase of $27,000,000 of revenue under the pending bill, as against a decrease of $60,000,000 from putting sugar and other articles on the free list; that $33,500,000 had to be taken off from a surplus of $42,000,000, leaving some $15,000,000 at the end of the year, and paying nothing on sinking fund. Taking into account the balance now in the treasury, $107.000,000, and this surplus, Mr. Allison calculated, the surplus, Mr. Allison calculated, the Sccretary of the Treasury would have $78,000,000 on the 1st of July, 1891, nnless, in the meantime, he redeemed 4½ per cent. bonds as he (Mr. Allison) hoped the Secretary would proceed to do without delay. He declared, in his judgment, it was a wise thing to take off sugar duties. He had not the slightest fear that there would be any danger from it to the treasury, certainly not within several years to come. He danger from it to the treasury, certainly not within several years to come. He was also in favor of further extension of reciprocal trade. But he hoped that in any such arrangement it would be seen to that the United States had its just share of the bargain.

Mr. Gibson offered an amendment to the sugar schedule by adding the words, "syrup of beet, sorghum or sugar cane." He made an argument against the sugar bounty proposition.

against the sugar bounty proposition, away from Blaine's broad and gener-ous proposition of full reciprocity.

Mr. Sherman expressed his views on the subject of reciprocity, and spoke of the difficulties in the way of reciproc-ity by treaty. The first proposition of Mr. Hale's amendment was a most startling one. It authorizes the Presi-dent of the United States, without fur-ther legislation, to declare ports of the United States free and open to all prod-ucts of any nation of the American united States free and open to all products of any nation of the American hemisphere upon which no export duty is imposed. Was Cuba, he asked, a nation? He knew Senator Hale said today that he meant to include Cuba. But was Canada embraced in that list of nations? He had asked the Senator that question and the Senator had replied, "No, no, that question is a difficult thing," and yet if any reciprocal trade arrangements were made with any country they ought to be made with Canada. He went on to criticise unfavorably Mr. Hale's amendment as one that would allow free importation of wool, copper, zinc, iron, gold, silventy, lead ores, etc., but was informed by Mr. Hale that the amendment had not been carefully drawn, but was simply intended to propose the principle of reciprocity. His own amendment had been intended to apply to only three or four articles—sugar, coffee, rubber and nitrates.

He was reminded by Mr. Sherman

He was reminded by Mr. Sherman

that Cuba produced no coffee and no rubber, so the arrangement with Cuba could only be as to the article of sugar.

Mr. Hale.—If there is nothing to trade upon with advantage, then there will be no trade made. The plan which I suggested is comprehensive, but it is not definitive. If there is nothing to make a bargain upon, that settles the question.

make a bargain upon, that settles the question.

Mr. Spooner suggested an amendment to apply to Canada, putting a duty of 10 per cent ad valorem on green coffee, and five cents a pound and 10 per cent ad valorem on roast and ground coffee, and 10 per cent on tea, these duties being omitted from the Canadian tariff.

In the evening session Mr. Gibson

In the evening session Mr. Gibson moved as a substitute for the sugar schedule the paragraphs in the existing law imposing duties on sugar.

Mr. Dolph concluded a speech against any reciprocity with Canada in the matter of coal, timber and agricultural products.

Mr. Vance said there would be a surplus this year of 5,000,000 bales of cotton, 100,000,000 bushels of wheat and 500,000,000 bushels of corn. What was to be done with all that surplus if the foreign market be closed? And yet the American farmer had been told by the honorable Senator from Vermont (Mr. Morrill) that he produced too much and that the remedy was to limit production, and he had been told by the Senator from Connecticut (Mr. Hawley) that if a high wall were main ained around the United States for 50 years the American farmer would come out afterwards rich and happy.

The Senate at 10 p. m. adjourned.

Mr. Lacy-of Iowa called up and the House proceeded to the consideration of the Clayton-Breckfuridge contested of the Clayton-Breckinridge contested election case.

Mr. Cooper of Ohio opened the debate. He described the state of affairs leading up to the assassination of Clayton, and said it was the opinion of the majority that the murder grew directly out of the political methods adopted in that country. In that view the majority echoed the almost universal sentiment of all sections. Ballot-box stealing and stuffing, intimidation and murder naturally followed each other. In conclusion he passed a high encomium on the people and State of Arkansas, contending that if the election methods in vogue in that State were abandoned, the commonwealth would soon be alive with industry and manufactures.

factures.

Mr. Wilson of Missouri joined with Mr. Wilson of Missouri joined with the gentleman from Ohio in his pane-yric upon the people of Arkansas, But he regretted that the gentleman only today discovered how good the people of Arkansas were. If he had discovered it sooner he never could have signed the majority report. The have signed the majority report. The instigator of this investigation was Powell Clayton, but Powell Clayton was the dead man's brother, and while he would say to Powell Clayton, in the language of the Almighty, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay," he could not forget the fact that if Powell Clayton could divest himself of the hopeful influence of "Poker Jack" McClure he would be himself again and would not pursue Breckenr.dge from a motive of vengeance.

The case then went over until tomoriow and Mr. Cannon took the floor in a statement relative to the appropriations made at this session of Congress.

Mr. Sayers, a member of the Appropriations Committee reviewed the financial situation from a Democratic standpoint.

sime with them. If these Senators objected to the policy of trying to secure some benefits from those countries for the repeal of the duties on their sugar, he asked them how much more they ought to object to the unreserved repeal of these duties? It would be to declare a policy not much short of lunacy to repeal augar duties unless the repeal was used to obtain some benefits for the products of American lapor. To him one thing was as sure if the tides and sunrise, and that was that the policy suggested by the Freshelman Secretary of State, and which had secured the attention and approval of the wisest statemen in the last thirty sears, was a policy that had some to stay with the American people. There never was a time more fitted toury the plan or experiment than now and to his mind the amendment which he offered was the most fitting solution of the question.

failed to listen to that call and to speak of his attentive ears!

The place selected was the arena of the circus, the time 6 o'clock in the morning, the weapons pistols, and the distance the gentlemanly span of twenty-five paces.

To the uninitiated person who has never participated in an "affair" it might, seem impossible to miss your man at that range. But readers of French novels and newspapers will remember numerous cases papers will remember numerous cases where this has occurred—in the celebrated duel in Guy de Maupassant's novel "Bel-well, at any rate, these two "professional" gentlemen met, fired and missed. Then, to the evident disgust of two African apes which were unseen spectators of the meeting from the back of the gallery, they fell on each other's neck and declared honor satisfied.

Our two ancestral friends, the said monkeys, had expected a fight to the finish and were very much disappointed. As each of them had favored a different combatant they thought it would be a good thing to they thought it would be a good thing to run a fight of their own. So when the others had gone off, leaving a second pair of loaded pistols behind, they went down into the ring, placed themselves at a dis-tance of five paces from each other and fired, blowing each other into atoms.

This is the first duel between monkeys This is the first duel between monkeys on record, and is fruitful of suggestions.

These monkeys had a much stronger sense of honer than the first combatants. The cause of their quarrel was slighter. They trusted each other so completely as to do without seconds. They evidently believed that it is disgraceful for both parties to come home alive from a duel.

All this shows that a monkey, unlike the nobler animal man, "when he says he'll do a thing, will do it," and further, that when he arranges a duel means that there shall be certainly one funeral, and perhaps two.

—New York Evening Sun.

The unwritten tragedies of New York would transcend in interest the history of Napoleon. The other day Mrs. Bergen and her husband and the ailing baby went to Rockaway Beach for an afternoon airing. Rockaway Beach for an afternoon airing. As they alighted from the train at the beach, Mrs. Bergen looked down at the face of her kaby and saw that it was dead. She stifled the moan that rose unconsciously from her stricken heart, because she was afraid the authorities would take her child away. Neither did she tell her husband the awful news. All the afternoon she carried the little inanimate body around on the sands, choking back the tears, answering her husband's gay chatter with sobs. But she did not reveal her awful secret. Now and then she stole a with sobs. But she did not reveal her awful secret. Now and then she stole a wistful look at the white face resting against her shoulder. At last the long afternoon's agony was over and they reached the door of the now desolate home. As they entered the house the stricken mother

Insluesre Expressions of Grief.

A hearty grief is seldom expressed in "ahis" and "ohis" and "alases." . "Alas!" is particularly objectionable. It is only mawkish, affected sentimentalists who make use of it. It does not belong to the vocabulary of the heart. One often meets with it in dramatic literature, for it is of the stage, stagy. When the heroine of a tragedy is informed, that somebody has poisoned or put a few inches of cold steel into her lover or brother or papa she shrieks, swoons, and on coming to a little, "alas!" is generally her "cue"—the keynote of a tedious complimentary notice of the virtues of the deceased. But we venture to say that no reader ever heard the exclamation from the lips of a sincere mourner. "Helas!"

Squirrels and Owla Fight. The home of these owls has been from immemorial time in an aged elm that graces the front yard of one of the old mansions in our town. In a hollow caused by the breaking off of a large limb the owls have taken up their abode. Three winters ago some squirrels took possession of the same tree and waged continual war with the owls. The latter maintained their rights and the contest was hotly carried on until, incautiously, the owls took a fancy to spend the day out a-visiting. The gautirels, saized their coproportunity, and equirrels seized their opportunity and stopped the hole full of sticks, twigs and even branches of considerable size, which they drove in so firmly that all the storms of the succeeding winter did not dislodge them. For that year, then, the owls gave it up and made their home elsewhere, but they are back at this present writing, and matters are going on as of bld.—Christian

The Sun's Goal.

Dr. Ludwig Struve's determination of the motion of the solar system in space, as published in the memoirs of the St. Petersburg academy is derived for burg academy, is derived from comparisons of the positions for 2,500 stars recorded in catalogues of 1755 and again in 1855. These catalogues of 1755 and again in 1855. These show that the solar system is moving toward a point in the constellation Hercules. The motion for 100 years, it would have been seen from an average sixth magnitude star, was 4.36 seconds of arc, a rate corresponding to an actual velocity of about thirteen miles a second. Combining his results with those obtained by other astronomers, Dr. Struve finds the point toward which the sun and its family of planets are speeding to be still in the constellation Hercules, and the mean velocity to be fifteen miles a second.—Arkansaw Traveleler.

A monument to the lifeboat was Born.

A monument to the lifeboat now stands at South Shields, said to be the lifeboat's birthplace. In 1789 the ship Adventure was wrecked off the Tyne and a committee was formed to consider the matter of providing a lifeboat. The models submitted by Henry Greathead, a boat builder, and by William Wouldhave, a journeyman painter, were selected by the committee for use. Whether Wouldhave or Greathead was the actual inventor is a most head was the actual inventor is a moot point; but locally Wouldhave is looked upon as the author of the model. The names of both men are given on the memo-rial. The first occasion on which a ship-wrecked crew was landed by means of a

LOST ON A MOUNTAIN TOP.

How. Two Frenchmen Began an Affair, and How Two Apes Finished It.

A story which comes from Paris would lead us to alter a well known expression that says, "the more we think of monkeys the less we think of monkeys the more weeks ago, where a bittentive ears?

The Veer-old son of the Rev. B. T. Vincent, of Greeley, and the daughter of a X-Governor Eaton underwent an experience on alght which will be remembered to the send of their days. They had climbed up on the mountains the day before, and while walking up Boulder canyon conceived the idea of climbing to the top of the foothills to the south, and from there were the sun set. Another lady was with thom, but, being consumptive, she seen that matters could only be righted by the shedding of blood. Wounded honor called for satisfaction. And what Frenchman ever failed to listen to that call and to speak of his attentive ears?

The place selected was the arena of the leave to time do year. It is a climb from the very start over the roughest of precipices, places where, if once the first the time do yeleck in the morning. est of precipices, places where, if once reached, it would be difficult to turn back reached, it would be difficult to turn back and retrace the steps or the climbing.

Young Vincent and Miss Eaton, bent upon seeing the sun set, climbed on, and did not notice that it was already getting dark in the valleys. Overhead all was bright. Long before they reached the top, however, the sun had set, and the two were suddenly confronted with the fact that night was drawing on, that they could not possibly retrace their steps, and that that night was drawing on, that they could not possibly retrace their steps, and that they knew of no way to get down the hill. There was a good trail and wagon road on the other side of the hill, but it was three-quarters of a mile from the lost wanderers and they knew not of its existence. Besides this they had not yet reached the top. In the twilight they crawled upward, sometimes crawling on hands and knees, sometimes needing all their strength to enable them to get ahead. It was a hard climb, resulting in bleeding and torn hands and torn clothes.

When the top of the hill was finally reached the couple got their bearings and could see in what direction Boulder lay. They could see the reflections of the Argo Smelting works on the clouds; they could see the electric lights of Denver; they could later on see the outlines of Boulder and her electric lights, but they could not get down. Except on the trail the descent is, even in daytime, not the safest, and at night absolutely dangerous. The ravines and gorges are deep, and the precipices overhanging and steep. The two people were unused to mountain climbing and knew not the way down, and were hence imprisoned on the heights. Meantime the father of young Vincent, becoming alarmed at the absence of the two, had succeeded in getting a number of people out to hunt the lost ones. He feared they had been murdered or had fallen into the creek, and it was carefully searched, as well as could be at night, for dead bodies. The crowd called out, but received no answer.

HIS COMPLAINT DISMISSED.

Thought His Wife Was Going to Steal His Children-Notes and Comment-Personals and Brevitles.

William Brryman Ridges once more brings himself before public notice. Yesterday his wife, who was recently granted a legal separation from the author of "My Rambles Through Bible Lands," left for Iowa to attend an important meeting of the Friends' church. Mr. Ridges, knowing of her intended departure, made a complaint before Judge Van Dyke in Los Angeles, charging that Mrs. Ridges was going to take her children with her. It seems one of the conditions of the separation before granted was that Mr. Ridges was to be permitted to see the child en when he pleased. He stated to Judge Van Dyke that he did not know where they were and that Mrs. Ridges was going to take them from him for-

The firemen were given an oppor-tunity yesterday to show what they could do, and they didn't let it slip. By a very promptresponse to the alarm and well-applied exertions at the scene of action they saved one o the handsomest residences in town from destruction. It was by means of this useful apparatus that the department was apprised of the fire in time to be of service. In lieu of electric slarms let us cling to the telephone.

Mrs. Bangs's residence that the Rosenbaum buildings were in imminent danger from a brush fire that was raging in the arroyo. The steamer and the hose cart got to the scene with surprising rapidity considering the distance and the steep ascent leading up to the Orange Grove avenue. When the alarm sounded the hook and ladder horses were drawing a sprinkling cart on East Colorado street. They were driven to the engine house, unhitched, and hitched to the trucs with great dispatch, and were not more than two minutes behind the steamer in reaching Grand avenue.

The hose was attached to the plug on the corner of Colorado street and Orange Grove avenue, and quickly run to the er of the Rosenbaum house, over a square away. A brisk breeze was blowing up from the arroyo, on whose eastern slope the high grass was burning fiercely. A lot of hay about the stable caught, and had the water been turned on one minute later that building would have been in flames, in which case the residence could not have been saved. It took a good half-hour to get the fire-out. When the flames were the highest dense clouds of smoke were sent up, almost blinding the hundreds of onlookers. The street and and block 4. MR. THOMPSON'S ORCHARD.

Probably the largest single orchard of deciduous fruits in the San Gabriel Valley is that of C. C. Thompson, lo-cated to the east of North Lake avenue. Mr. Thompson has over sixty acres set out to peaches, prunes, pears, apricots and plums. He does not believe in planting trees and then letting them grow as best they can. The trees stand in rows straight as an arrow and at considerable distance apart.
The ground, which is a sandy loam, is thoroughly cultivated, so that no water is needed for irrigation. The trees is needed for irrigation. The trees are kept well cut back to obtain quality as well as quantity in the fruit,

So far the 20 acres set to peaches have yielded over 65 tons. The late crop is still on the trees. This means at a low estimate 50 tons more. Here you have 115 tons of peaches. A small quantity was sold green at from 1½ to 2½ cents a pound. The dried fruit brought 19 cents, and that peeled and dried 25 cents a pound. Senator Stanford.

[San Francisco Star.]

A good deal has been said about Stanford's ambition to become President of the United States, through a nomination by the Republican party. And at the same time, and while the time for his Senatorial renomination drew near, there began to appear distinct signs of the failure of Stanford's bodlly and mental faculties. Report crept out of his suffering under a gradual paralysis of the spinal marrow. He deserted his official post in the Senate, when matters of the weightiest national importance were immediately before it, and went on a voyage to Europe, svowedly for his health—s proceeding which strengthened the belief in his physical decrepitude. He introduced into the Senate shortly before leaving, a bill which could hardly be considered anything except a demagogue's bid for fools' votes—a means for wasting a thousand millions of the public money on principles of finance that have been illustrated—and exploded—by every great national bankruptcy for centuries. That an able business man in his senses should form such a scheme as Stanford's land bill, is out of the question. It could only be accounted for as the progeny of a disturbed and enfeebled intellect, and as purely a device for catching votes of the ignorant and thoughtless.

What They Say About Us.
[Chicago Heraid.]

The California farmers are the happiest tillers of the soil in the Union this year. The Golden State has never had such a money-making year since her mining days were past. Every form of farm products in California has been in wonderful demand for months, and at large prices. It is a mighty poor farmer out there, who, under erdinary circumstances, has not made a snug thing financially this year. The fruit growers have dominated the American fruit market, and the profits that some of them have made and are still making are enough to work the slower reladding. American fruit market, and the profits that some of them have made and are still making are enough to make the slow, plodding, industrious farmer groan with jeal-ousy. In Southern California there are hundreds of peach, pear and prune growers who have sold their crops from fifteen and twenty-acre orchards for prices ranging from $5000 to $5000. California vineyardists are reaping a rich harvest of dollars, and in a few months more the orange growers will rake in a lot more of our hardearned cash. But the orange growers in California have always made princely profits, and had things about their own way in our markets—especially in Chicago in April and May—so that class of orchardists will not be surprised. The writer of this saw, when in Riverside and Pomons, two years ago, orange orchards that had never made less than $425 an acre annually, and in some years made a profit of $550 an acre for their owners.

Plant Potatoes.

Plant Potatoes.

(Ontario kecord.)

California potatoes will be in as great demand next winter as our fruits have been this season, and the man who can plant the vegetable now and gather it before the frosts of winter arrive will surely make a good thing on his investment. The commission men say that potatoes will run to a higher figure before next May than ever known here before, except during the "boom" winter of 1887-88.

Potatoes are now a very profitable crop to the farmers. The cause of the rise in price is the great failure of the crop in nearly all of the Eastern States. In Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado potatoes are now a luxury; the drouth and hot winds have laid ruin to two-thirds of the crop. In Missouri, Illinois and other States there is a shortage in the crop, and California potatoes are in great demand in Kansas, Colorado and all that region. Our California potatoes are now selling, at $2.50 a saok in Denver, and there are constant orders for more of the vegetables to be shipped to that city. Farther east the potato rot has killed the crop in Canada and the Middle States. In some sections potatoes are a complete failure, and will not be worth In some sections potatoes are a com-plete failure, and will not be worth gathering. There is a great European demand also for American potatoes.

The Biggest Returns Yet. (Exchange.)

James Stewart, of Downey, makes a report concerning one acre of Smyrna figs, that is the best of any kind of deciduous fruit we have heard of this season. There are seventy trees on the acre, all fifteen years old. The fruit has been sold for $70 a ton, delivered at the Downey depot. The picking of the fruit has progressed easily for two weeks, and Mr. Scewart estimates that the seventy trees will yield over fifteen tons of fruit, making the acre of truit worth $1050. Nine tons of figs have been picked already. Several people have doubted the correctness of Mr. Stewart's estimates on the acre of fruit, but he says he will wager the best suit of clothes in Los Angeles, or a hat, with any man that the seventy trees yield over $950 worth of figs this season.

Good Times and Better Coming.

Eyerybody appears to be looking for prosperous times this winter in South-ern California. The large fruit ship-ments have acted as the best possible ments have acted as the best possible advertising scheme, and attracted public attention to the great advantage of small fruit raising in this end of the State. Look out for a lively demand for small farms this winter. The men who will be seeking this kind of property will all have some means—say, from $1000 to $10,000. Such an element will make times pretty lively. Great aggregate wealth and widespread distribution, as will be the case with small farms, is what constitutes the most desirable industrial condition for any country.

for any country. AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

The triumph of California horses on the Eastern turf tuls season evinces the fact that there is something in climate as well as in blood, the California record-breakers being scions of horses brought here from Kentucky. The equine attains physical perfection here, and because of the favorable climatic conditions which conduce to their development, California-bred horses are able to throw dust in the eyes of all competitors.—[Ontario Observer.

sea.—[F. H. Vaslit, in Zoe.

To plant a tree in grass and expect it to do well by keeping a little circle around it free from grass is perhaps a well meant operation, and good as far as it goes. But the destruction of grass should extend to the whole orchard; in other words, never plant a fruit tree in grass. Grass may sometimes be tolerated after a tree is large and well established, but usually not. Culture and manure are what an orchard needs.—[Ex.

French Prunes in California.

¡Correspondence Pomona Progress.]

California is certainly the paradise of the fruit-grower. A fortune can be made in 10 years from a fruit ranch of 80 acres or even 40 acres, mostly by anybody blessed with that amount of good land. Now I will demonstrate how any enterprising man with a very limited capital can also make himself and family very comfortable and even rich withten acres of bottom lund if planted in French prunes or Petite Prunes d'Orgen, which is the same thing.

Prunes d'Orgen, which is the same thing.

The trees must be grafted or budded on plum stock, and be 1 or 2 years old—I prefer 1-year-old trees. They must be planted about 25 feet apart, so it will take 100 trees per acre. Good trees ought to be had for 20 cents apiece, or by the thousand for 15 cents. The holes must be dug from 2 to 3 feet square, according to quality of the soil.

The fourth season after planting, and even the third, if your trees have been well taken care of, you will obtain about 10 pounds of prunes to each tree, enough to initiate yourself into the drying business. The fifth year you will get about 60 pounds to each tree; the sixth year 120 pounds or more to the tree. After that your trees are in full bearing, producing according to location and care, 150 to 300 pounds to the tree.

The only trouble now is the drying of the prunes in a satisfactory manner without spending thousands of dollars in building driers. Driers are a necesin building driers. Driers are a necessity in Oregon or any other wet country, but here in California we can dry the French prunes to perfection without driers; sometimes in one week and more generally in two weeks by following the following instructions:

Do not pick the prunes by hand, as they do not ripen all at the same time, but in about three weeks. Begin to shake your trees towards the last of July, then every week after, and on the fourth time pick them clean.

Now for drying. The only apparatus needed is an iron kettle holding from 25 to 50 gallons of water. To each 20

Now for large season and the most season and the sun, your prunes will be dried enough to put the sun, your prunes and hammer.

Now when your put saw and hammer.

Now when your punes are all died and you want to give them the finishing gloss for the market, and when this way and the may any body who ever used a saw and hammer.

Now when your punes are all died and you want to give them to the sun, your prunes will be dried enough to put them loose in any kind of boxes holding 50 to 75 pounds. The trays can be made very cheaply (about ten cents each) with four sawed redwood shakes three feet long, nailed on a very primitive frame, by anybody who ever used a saw and hammer.

Now when your prunes are all dried and you want to give them the finishing gloss for the market, do as follows: Fill your kettle again with water, but this time no lye is wanted, and when the water is boiling steep your prunes in it with your wire basket for about a minute till every prune is quite hot, then expose them to the sun for that day, and the next morning you can pack them in boxes or sacks, as you prefer. This last steeping will make your prunes very clear and glossy, and will kill every insect and destroy their eggs effectually.

If you follow the above directions you will turn out an article equal to the best in the market, and will obtain the best price.

It does not take much perception to It does not take much perception to see that thus, on an outlay of not a dollar more than $2760, a person can have an easy income of $5000 annually in ten years' time. CATARRH. M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.

Probably no system of practice ever em-ployed has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Brenchitia, Asthma and Consumption.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract fresh cold. Indeed he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and he is always exceedingly careful; its also a matter of surprise to his that the cold always seems to settle in the head and threat.

takes attother, and he is always exceedingly care to be a successful to the state of surprise to his that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appear and be learns to his herror, that instead of recovery from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing; hearseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat, er it appears that some foreign substance as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of language and fatigue; the breat lessens on a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat. A feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breate; these and other symptoms chest to breate; these and other symptoms progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work.

CONSUMPTION.

The earlier symptoms of consumption consist in a wearliers at times or a disposition to the effects of cold: also breathlessness upon moving or ascending a hill or stairs, a slight, hacking cough with or without expectoration, fiying pains throughout the chest et back, or under the shoulder blades. These symptoms are more noticeable toward or in the night, slight fever in the afternoon. Cold feet and bands and in many cases a blue liridity of the lips and r ots of the finger nails. It is unnecessary to give the symptoms in the more advanced stages of consumption, as there is careful a family in our state wherein there is careful a family in our state wherein the consumption as there is careful a family in our state wherein
